ARRIVAL OF A FEW DELEGATES OF THE SILVER PARTY.

Senator Jones of Nevnda Makes an Address to About Twenty of the Delegates and Declares for Bryan-The Programme Arranged for To-day's Convention -Newlands to Be Temporary Chairman and St. John Permanent Chairman, Sr. Louis, July 21.-Three box cars got into Union station to-day with freight consigned to Boss Incubator Mott of North Carolina, and the Populist Incubator, or National Free-silver party. They were unloaded and were found to contain delegates to the Incubator Convention. Nobody knows just how many there were, but the Hoss Incubator and one or two men who hung out around his lonely room say that there were 250. As soon as they were let out of the cars they disappeared. Some twenty of them found their way to the Lindell House, an nounced themselves as the Silver party's National Committee, and at noon held a conference. This conference was addressed by Senator Jones of Nevada. In the course of his speech he said:

"It is impossible for the Democratic party to go back on what it has done. The Convention at Chicago was the first Convention I have attended where it seemed to me that I could smell the violets from the ground. Whitney, Hill, Flower and all the rest of them were like feathers in a cyclone.

"The Convention adopted a platform which must satisfy all the Populists and all the people, and all we have to do is to let them get organized right. The road to success is to endorse the Democratic nomines. I can see no other way. If we can get together now we will achieve the greatest victory that was ever achieved in the history of American politics. If we cannot show these conditions to the men who don't want to endorse Bryan, I can't see any other course but to go on ourselves and endorse Mr. Bryan. Mr. Bryan sided with the Populists in the State of Nebraska, and all the Populists of that State, I understand, are enthusiastic for him. I suggest that the Bimetallic Convention pass a resolution endorsing Bryan. This may have a great influence with the Populist Convention.

"If we are going to do anything, we must do it quick. We must argue with each man and show him that we can achieve greater results by unifying the forces. If each man shall make nself an agent and do everything he can to help the great cause along, we cannot help but succeed. The quicker we act in unifying the forces now at our elbows the better, and we will sure then of not only endorsing Mr. Bryan but will surely elect him this fall."

After this speech the Committee decided to call the Convention to order in Music Hall tomerrow morning at 10 o'clock, to have it opened with prayer, and to follow that with the reading of the Declaration of Independence by the young woman dressed in flags, who has told about in THE SUN. The committee also decided to ratify Boss Incubator Mott's choice of Congressman Francis Newlands for temporary Chairman, and William P. St. John, the ex-national bank president, who is almost ready to batch out as a Populist, as permanent Chairman, A friend of Mr. St. John was there, and he announced that the speech that St John would deliver would be the greatest campaign document that anybody had ever gotten up. Whereupon Congressman Newlands, who was on hand, asserted that his speech would not be any slouch either. There was considerable indignation expressed at the stories that the National Silver Party Convention was not going to be the biggest thing on earth, and every man present said:

At this writing no more delegates have arrived, but one of the railroad companies reports two freight cars full of perishable freight tumbled into the Mississippi River at East St. Louis this afternoon, and it is thought that may contain delegates. If they do contain delegates it may be a fair explanation why the National Silver party's first Convention will be a poorly attended affair.

"Just wait until our delegates get in, we'll

George W. Thompson of the State of Washington was elected to a place on the committee, and following this came the appointment of a special committee, consisting of Senator Jones of Nevada and Messra, Stevens of Colorado, Baker of California, Thompson of Washington, and Devine of Nebraska, to draft an address to the public calling upon all friends of silver to support Bryan and silver.

After the committee meeting to-day I. N. Stevens, the committee meeting to-day in the said:

"Our party was organized to unite all silver votes for the campaign of 1896; without regard to past party affiliations. We started by asking them to lay aside temporarily their views upon other public questions, and to unite in one supreme effort to settle the money question this year. Our Convention will be largely composed of men who have been easily persuaded to join our ranks for the reason that they do not have to sacrifice their convictions upon other political questions, but simply subordinate them to the money question.

"Our Convention will nominate Bryan and Sewall upon substantially the financial plank of the Chicago platform, which will probably be the sole plank of our platform, and then an address will probably be issued appealing to the American people to hold in abeyance their belief upon other questions and Join with us in restoring the money of the Constitution. Nothing was said at the meeting about the wonderful plan to raise campaign funds by popular subscription.

Sr. Louis, July 21.-The contesting delegations from Illinois gos mixed up in the hallway outside the room in which the National Committee were hearing their claims this evening and blows were exchanged. The committee met at 9 P. M., and had been in session only a few minutes when the contestants, headed by Burns and Hogan, made some remarks about the Dr. Taylor faction which Taylor resented. The lie was passed, and in a second the two factions were mixed up on the floor. Dr. Taylor was thrown down twice. He used his fists to good advantage and landed several blows on the faces of his opponents. The men were pulled apart, but got together a second time. Dr. Taylor was thrown and several men piled up on top of him. There were threats of resorting to firearms, when the colice arrived and restored order.

Meanwhile the National Committee heard the claims of the contesting delegates, and by a vote of 30 to 26 threw out the Burns-Hogan faction and seated the delegation headed by Dr. Taylor. This was a victory for Chairman Taubeneck, at whose suggestion the case was

"I have conceded to my opponents the same honesty of purpose that I have demanded that you should admit for myself. [Great cheering.] And so in this great and memorable campaign upon which we are entering for you any complimentary terms that you may use toward myself, I say to you that every good word that you can use toward me I can repeat of my opponent, Major McKinley. [Applause.]

"If you tell me that I honestly endorse the sentiments written in the platform on which I stand, I tell you that I know you who oppose me are just as sincere in your desire for good government. "During the campaign within the party the Journal called upon all Democrats to pledge themselves in advance to vote for the nominees of the Convention, and in that connection the Journal pledged itself to do so. We find nothing to commend in the Republican platform ing to commend in the Republican platform except its declaration in favor of the maintenance of a sound currency, and this declaration is qualified by an ill-tempered criticism of the course pursued by the present Administration, which was absolutely necessary to sustain a sound currency.

"The Republican party favors a high protective tariff; it opposes an income tax; it is identified with the trusts and monopolies of the country, and it can be relied upon to give them support at the expense of the masses. In this condition of affairs, the Journal believes it is the part of patriotism and wisdom to remain inside the Democratic party.

"Especially is this true in the South. The Democratic party has been the constant friend of our section, while the Republican party has been its bitter and relentless enemy."

SOUND-MONEY FLAGS OUT.

The Dry Goods District Blossoms with

The wholesale dry goods merchants are preparing to make a remarkable display of campaign flags to illustrate their sentiment in favor of the McKinley and Hobart sound-money campaign. It is a movement supported by firms in the wholesale dry goods district, irrespective of former party affiliations. The day after the nominations at St. Louis were complete, a thirty-foot American flag was hung out on Worth street, between Church and Broadway. Since then one has been hung on Worth street just east of Broadway, and others on Thomas and Duane streets, on the west side. In a few days more Broadway will be crossed with flags at Leonard, Franklin, Spring, and Howard streets; there will be flags on Leonard street on both sides of Broadway, on Franklin and Canal streets, west of Broadway, and on White street, on the east side. There will be another on Greene street, above Canal street, and three on Broome street. Each flag is procured by a subscription furnished by the firms on the block where it is hung out.

"And, by Glory," says the merchant who has interested himself particularly in the demonstration, "when we dry goods people have set the example, I'm going to find out why there isn't a flag on every block of Broadway and on svery side street from the Battery to Fifty-ninth street." nominations at St. Louis were complete, a gress Campaign Committee, WASHINGTON, July 21.-The Democratic Congress Campaign Committee now has Candidate Bryan's Chicago Convention speech ready for distribution. It came from the printers to-day. It is in pamphlet form, with the "Crown of Thorns" and "Cross of Gold" quotations as heads to the title page. It is numtations as heads to the title page. It is numbered 15 in the committee series. Senator Faulkner, the Chairman of the committee, regards the speech as the best campaign document yet at hand. The Senator writes, in fact, that the candidate should have remained content with that speech. The speeches made since the Convention, he thinks, are not up to the standard, and will require explanation and defence. In Chairman Faulkner's opinion, Bryan should always have time for the preparation of his public sheeches, to avoid saying things that he should not have said. The committee will begin at once to distribute tons of the "Cross of Gold" speech.

OBJECTION RAISED TO RUSHING IT INTO POPULISM. Mill Of for Three Days on a Tacht

-The Talk About Putting Him Up for Governor - Shepard Democracy - State Committee to Discuss Chicago To-night. After the announcement was made on Monday by John C. Sheehan that the Tammany Hall Executive Committee would hold a meeting the latter part of this week to arrange for a ratification of the Chicago nominations, there was some lively hustling on the part of Democrats who are opposed to hasty action. Telephone and telegraph wires were kept hot for a few hours on account of the announce nent, and the result was apparent yesterday when Mr. Sheehan said that while he may issue a call for the meeting to-day, the Executive Committee will probably not meet until next Wednesday, the day after the Democratic State Committee meets. National Committee-man William F. Sheehan and ex-Police Commissioner James J. Martin had much to do with securing the delay. Both are known to be opposed to the Bryan ticket, and at any rate they do not want to see any Democratic organization in this State which thinks it must endorse the Chicago ticket as a master of expediency, rush into populism as though it really liked it.

When the meeting of the Executive Committee is held it is not probable that there will be a unanimous decision in favor of endorsing the Chicago ticket. At least, there are said to be some members of the body who will insist that the dose be swallowed, if at all, with a protest. Not being able to prevent the endorsement, because they are in the minority, these district leaders hope to make it carry as little comfort to the supporters of populism as possible. Most of these men are leaders in sec-tions of the city which will be most seriously affected by the defection of the sound-money members of the party. They wish to keep these men tied to Tammany Hall and not to offend them so that they may form an alliance with the enemies of Tammany in the local fight next year, when a Mayor, a Comptroller, a Sheriff, and a District Attorney are to be Senator Hill came up from Normandie-bythe-Sea on the Sandy Hook boat yesterday morning, and after luncheon at the Hotel Normandie drove to the foot of East Twenty-sixth street, where he boarded Col. Ruppert's steam yacht Albatross for a cruise of three days. Besides the owner of the yacht, other companions of the Senator on the voyage are sien. Ferdinand P. Earle and Col. John E. Mc-Ewen, formerly Assistant Adjutant-General.

To the reporter of THE SUN who saw him. Senator Hill said:

"What is the use of denying all the rumors that are printed about me? If I neither affirm nor deny them they soon die out. The story that Senator Murphy wishes me to declare myself a candidate for Governor is hardly worth the dignity of a denial. There is not the least bit of truth in it."

Senator Hill is not an expert sailor. As he and Gen. Earle alighted from the cab on the East Twenty-sixth street pier and gazed at the little boat in waiting to take them to the Albatross, the Senator shook his head dubiously, as if he wondered how he was to board it. He advanced one foot tentatively, then withdrew it. He repeated the effort with the other foot. Then he sought to assist himself with his umbrella, using it as a support. Having failed in all these trials, he shut his teeth hard and leaped into the boat, and was saved from falling by the outstretched hand of a saller. Senator Hill has been yachring before, but he never got used to the boobing small boats.

Although Senator Hill talks as though his candidacy for Governor this year were an impossibility, it is none the less true that it has been talked about by Democratic leaders. Something akin to the conditions which existed in 1894, and which actuated the Tammany Hall and other leaders to force the nomination of the Senator, exist to day, and the something which actuated them them—a desire to preserve their organization, and to get the most

ORGANIZING THE BUSINESS MEN

The Movement to Put Them in Pighting Trim Spreads to Boston.

BOSTON, Mass., July 21.-The first step was taken to-day in a movement to bring the Boston business men of both parties into some kind of an organization to further the prospects of the sound-money protectionist caudidates. This movement in Boston is in pursuance of the plan adopted in Philadelphia yesterday, when a busi-ness men's campaign committee was organized there. It was the direct result of the recent correspondence between Rudolph Blankenburg. a Phildadelphia merchant, who has taken par in launching the new organization, and J. R. Leeson of the firm of J. R. Leeson & Co. of this city. On July 11, just before the preliminary meeting in Philadelphia, Mr Blankenburg wrote to Mr. Leeson, enclosing a copy of the call to the preliminary meeting. In his letter he said:

"It seems to me that every effort should be made to thoroughly organize the business men all over the country. to take an active part in this most important campaign in the history of the country. We want to go to New York. Chicago, Sr. Louis, and a number of important cities. After we have organized in these places it will be easy to have a business men committee in every town in every State where we want to make a fight, and only in this way can a triumphant election of Mckinley and Hobert be secured. The committee, in my opinion, should be entirely confined to manufacturers and husiness men, and especially bankers should be excluded, as, if they should be found in such a committee the cry of Wall street and Lombard street would be immediately raises to our great disadvantage."

Mr. Leeson favored the plan and agreed to invite representative Hoston business men to meet. Leeson of the firm of J. R. Leeson & Co. of this Mr. Lesson favored the plan and agreed to innot have said. The committee will to-day contained several letters that are significant in showing the sentiment in the South. Alexander P. Hull, an attorney of Atlanta, Ga., sent a clipping from a local newspaper telling of his revolt against the Chicago plat form and ticket. Oscar R. Hundley, a member of the Alabama Legislature, has written to tell of his determination to bolt the Chicago ticket. Col. Thomas Clay of Lexington, Ky., a grandson of Henry Clay, has been a consistent Demo crat all his life, but he regards the work of the Chicago Convention as a menace to the coun try and refuses to support the nominees. His views are set fourth in a letter to T. H. Norton of Wheeling, W. Va., who sent a copy of it to Major McKinley.

This despatch was dated at a hotel in Olean N. Y.:

Reso lutions were adopted unanimously repudiating the Chicago platform and nominees, and de-claring it to be the sense of the meeting that new ticket should be nominated. George M Davie, W. B. Plans of organization were perfected, and it is proposed to form similar leagues all over the State. A conference of State Democrats was called for next Thursday noon, and a public meeting will be held in the largest hall in the city that evening. Among the organizers of the league are several of the most influential politicians of the State, including Charles H. Long, Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee for ten years; John B. Castleman, Chairman for four years; W. B. Haldeman, general manager of the Courter-Journal; A. J. Carroll, ex-Speaker of the Kentucky House of Representatives; R. W. Knott, editor of the Post; J. M. It was called in the terest of harmony, but it developed a red-hot

The condition which confronts the Democracy in Maine is peculiar. The national platform has declared for free eliver, and to make the eltuation still more embarrassing has placed a citizen of Maine, Arthur Sewall, upon the national ticket. The State Convention has adopted a true blue gold platform and nominated a stalwart gold man for Governor, Edward B. Winslow. As if to make the situation still more picturesque, Winelow was a delegate to Chicago and voted for Pattison for President, for Sewall for Vice-President, and against the national platform, and assisted in ousting Sewall from the National Committee because of his silver views. Winslow has withheld his letter of acceptance It would take the wise men of the East to study out a solution of this political puzzle, and after three hours' discussion, which began quietly enough, but gradually worked up into a vocal volcano of proportions terrible to contemplate in this weather, the Democracy is no nearer a solution than before the meeting was called. Everybody had something to explain except a way out of the dilemma, and this noody could discover.

It was largely a battle of the silver Sewall forces against the Wisslow gold forces, and the delegation from Bath was especially strong in declare himself on national issues. The silverites went so far as to ask Winslow directly what he intended to do, but the question was met with such a determined yell of "No" from the Winslow men that this line of procedure was quickly abandoned. The Sewall contingent wished to force Winslow to a withdrawal or an approval of the principles of the National Convention, but the Winslow contingent outnumbered the other and the scheme was not suc-

One thing was demonstrated very forcibly, and that is, there is no hope of family harmony and happiness for the Maine Democracy in this campaign. Winslow himself was present and heard all the talk about himself. If he has the courage and natural resent-ment about him that he is credited with, he will run on the gold platform of the Portland Convention. That means he will virtually run on the Republican platform. The remarks of the silver contingent were peculiar for one

They all protested that they offered no threat, and then proceeded to say that if Winslow would not dance to their silver music they would not support him.

The gold sentiment was in control. That was shown when some of the speakers defended the Portland platform. John B. Madigan made one of the big hits of the meeting when he said: "I decline to be read out of the Democracy for which my fathers fought because I do not approve of free silverism and some of the other peculiar issues of a peculiar National Convention." When he declared "That the old Democracy would live after the craze of free silver was dead and buried," the shouts were deafen-

The Sewall men shot a bard bolt and sent it for all it was worth, but it fell short. In the face of the sentiment expressed, the State Committee, if it was disposedito, would never dare to call a new State Covention for the purpose of tinkering with the gold platform already tinkering with the gold platform already adopted.

The Chairman tried to keep some semblance of harmony, and frequently reminded the meeting that it was intended to be a love feast, but he might as well have tried to create peaceful relations in a gathering of Kilkenny cats.

The gold men will not submit to the attempt to force Winslow to swallow the national platform. The silver men say they will never support Winslow on the present one. With the development of this meeting perish all hopes, if any ever existed, of carrying Maine for Democracy in September, or cutting down the Republican majority.

It would be interesting to know just how Mr. Bryan will frame his arguments for the

Bryan will frame his arguments for the suffrages of Maine people when he comes here as the guest of Mr. Sewall and finds Mr. Winslow nominated on a gold platform diametrically opposed to the Chicago declaration. No crown of thorns and cross of gold metaphor will fit the case. Charles F. Johnson said in the meeting tonight:

We have seen a Democratic National Con-"We have seen a Democratic National Convention fall to endorse an honest Democratic Administration. We have seen it condemn the act of a Democratic President in suppressing mob rule at Chicago. We have seen our Whitneys, our Clevelands, our Hills, and our Russels give way to Tillimans and Aligelds."

Mr. Johnson's reference to Tilliman and Aligeld brought up Mr. Torrey of Bath, who jumped from a sofa to the arena to call upon Mr. Hughes to set these sterling patriots, Tilliman and Aligeld, right in the minis of the people. Mr. Hughes promptly said it was not the time and that it was of no use to allow the question.

M. P. Frank was next called upon, it being time to hear from the silver wing after two gold men had spoken. Mr. Frank evolved an entirely new scheme. He wiped the Maine platform out of existence, placed Mr. Winslow on the silver structure, and so made everything lovely.

He was sure that all were Democrats, as levely.

He was sure that all were Democrats, as President Lincoln was a Democrat and obeyed the wishes of the people after feeling the popular pulse, and the people supported him.

M'KINLEY IN CLEVELAND.

He Dines with Menntor Hawley and Menaator Sherman Will Greet Him To-day. CLEVELAND, July 21.-Major McKinley made number of calls this afternoon, and received at Mr. Hanna's residence the Mayor of Hartford and the members of the Common Council of that city. This evening United States Senator Joseph R. Hawley dined with Mr. McKinley at the Happa residence. Wednesday is " Founder's Day," and the most important events connected with the centen-nial will take place. There will be a number of speeches in the morning. The orator of the day is Senator Hawley. Senator Sherman arrived this evening, and will have a long talk on Wednesday with Major McKinley and Mr. Hanna about the campaign. He is of the opinion that it should be opened at once. Senator Sherman thinks the silver sentiment is pretty widespread among the farmers in many parts of the Western and central

As a believer in sound money, protection to American industries, and reciprocity, and as a patriotic supporter of our dear old flag against our enemies at home and abroad, you are earnessly requested to attend a neeting at the Broadway Central Hotel on Wednesday July 22, at 2 F. M. sharp, for the purpose of organizing a "McKiniey and Hobart Campaign Club" of the fur, wool, and straw hat manufacturers and dealers of this city and vicioity.

To prevent the plundering of the people, the debasement of our currency, the destruction of our industries, and national dishonor you are called upon to stand shoulder to shoulder with the Republican party for the safety and honor of our country and our glorious institutions.

CAMPAIGNER HACKETT DUE. Will Be Here to Meet Hanna and Start the State Canvass for McKinley. Chairman Hackets of the Republican State Committee put away his fishing rods yesterday and left his summer home on the St. Lawrence to begin the active work of the campaign for to begin the active work of the campaign for McKinley and Hobart in this city. He will get into town and will be ready to meet Chairman Hanna of the National Committee whenever that gentlemae arrives, which he is expected to do to-morrow morning. A lot of preliminary work has already been done by Mr. Platt. Mr. Hackett, and the other members of the State Committee, and the New York machine will be ready to grind as soon as Mr. Hanna indicates the policy of the National Executive Committee. David Martin of Philadelphia was in the city last evening and will remain in town to see Mr. Hanna. Mr. Martin said that Philadelphia alone will give McKinley and Holari 100,000 plurality, and that he looks for half a million plurality in the State of Pennsylvania.

One of the callers at Republican State Committee headquarters last night was State Sensior Henry J. Coggeshall of Oneida county, who enjoys the distinction of being the independent Republican party of the State of New York since he descated the regular Republican nomines for Senator. The Senator said last night:

HOW DO HANNA AND PAYNE STANDS The Facts Desired as to Their Attitude on Organized Labor.

CHICAGO, July 21. - A sub-committee of three of the Grievance Committee of the Trade and of the Grievance Committee of the Trade and Labor Assembly was appointed last night to collect evidence as to the attitude of Mark Hanna and Henry C. Payne toward organized labor. The meeting last night was the outcome of the charges made at the Trade and Labor Assembly on Sunday by Delegate John Ryan that Hanna and Payne were the enemies of organized labor, and that Payne had been responsible for the breaking up of the union of the Milwan kee street car men. Mr. Ryan renewed these charges in the committee last night.

Mr. Willis Will Consult Mr. Hanna

City Works Commissioner Theodore B. Willis of Brooklyn, who was a delegate to the St. Louis Convention and voted for McKintey, has received a communication from Mark Hanna, informing him that he will be in New York next week for consultation on campaign work. Mr. Willis will submit to him a plan of campaign for Kings county. It is understood that the active management of the canvass there will be left in the hands of Mr. Willis and his lieutenants. JEFFERSONIANS IN REPOLT.

They Rebelled Because Leader Eugel Balled Out a Lexow Witness,

There is a split in the Thomas Jefferson Independent Democratic Association because Tam-many leader Martin Engel of the Eighth Assembly district went ball for Lexow witness Max Senfunan, and as a result of the dissension Samuel Cohen, Philip Tobias, and Morris Marks of the Executive Committee of the age sociation were summoned to Essex Market Court yesterday to answer a charge of larceny preferred by Julius Kaiser, the club's President. According to the facts brought out in court Charles Kramer, owner of a café in Engel's house, at 123 Allen street, became indignant at Engel's action bailing Senftman, who was arrested for extortion, and he called an indignation meeting in the rooms of the Jefferson Club. Those who attended it organized themselves into the Charles Kramer Association. The leaders of the revolt then gave the newly organized club permission to hold another meeting in the rooms of the Jefferson Association. In order to make room for the meeting, it was decided to remove a portion of the furniture to Tobias's house, at 131 Allen street.

It is understood that when Engel heard this he ordered Kaiser, the President of the Jeffersonians, to procure the issuance of the summonaes. Lawyer Goldsmith appeared for Kaiser, and Lawyer Otto A. Rosalsky repre-sented the defendants. The latter contended that the bolters had a perfect right to remove the furniture. Magistrate Kudlich so decided, declaring that it was an action for the civil courts.

The adherents of Engel and the bolters left the court room and began to squabble on the street. Fire court officers had to go and drive them away.

EVENETT, Wash., July 21.-The Republican State Convention of Washington, held at Everett on May 14, adopted rigid resolutions for the maintenance of the present gold standard. In this city a non-partisan gold standard league has been formed with the following agreement: We, the undersigned, free from all political bias and independent of political associations or hias and independent of political associations or affiliations, subscribe our names as members of the Everett Non-partisan Gold Standard League. The object of the league is to promote, sup-port, and suvocate the doctrine of sound money in our community, and thereby to uphold, sus-iain, and uplift the financial credit, honor, and integrity of our city, county, State, and nation." Any qualified voter approving and endorsing these principles may become a member.
